Interface and Software basic information:

Manufacturers create adjusted software and hardware versions, options and enhancements which ensures that the compatibility of the products cannot be guaranteed 100%. Compatibility lists are based on customer feedback and experiences and will constantly be updated for optimal customer support.

The functioning of interfaces can be affected by software updates from the manufacturer / dealers. In such cases, within one year after purchase, we provide a free software update for these interfaces (not on all products). The cost of (de-)installation is not included and the interface should be supplied to us.

Car manufacturers create adjusted versions of software and updates without having informed third parties about it. We therefore recommend to not update the car if not necessary.

In exceptional cases it is possible that the interface is not accepted by the vehicle, even after replacing the interface or software updates. In such cases, we should looking for an alternative.
